With priorities driven by the local business community, the Chamber is one of the most respected advocacy organizations within the state. The Chamber proudly and effectively advocates on behalf of the needs of our members at the city, state, and federal levels.

These committees offer industry and community leaders the opportunity to evaluate policy and regulatory matters and form recommendations on behalf of the Chamber.

Throughout the year, the Public Affairs Committee and Issue Committees meet to review legislative bills and local ordinances, hear presentations from elected leaders, and unite in support of or against policy proposals impacting the business community.

The Public Affairs program unites government affairs professionals, industry practitioners, and business leaders to evaluate and craft meaningful policy recommendations and set policy priorities for the Chamber.

With a robust vetting and review process, the Chamber's Public Affairs program formulates policy positions and a legislative agenda designed to ensure Arizona thrives!

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

The Greater Phoenix Chamber's Public Affairs Committee is charged with ensuring the business community has a seat at the table on the key issues affecting our state. We rely on our members to participate in crafting the policy priorities that best support business growth and sustainability.

Each session, the Chamber's Public Affairs team actively monitors around 300 bills to identify those that will have the biggest impact on our membership and the business community. And when those bills address priority issues on our policy agenda, the team actively engages in advocacy on behalf of our Chamber members. We also work closely with lawmakers on both sides of the aisle to make sure their priorities are reflected in the Chamber's policy agenda. Our rigorous and informed process for identifying and advocating for good public policy to support business is unique and effective, allowing the Chamber to develop a comprehensive and well-vetted policy agenda that is responsive to the needs of the business community.

The Chamber's six Issue Committees convene community leaders, legal experts, policy advocates, and business owners from all business sectors and industries to utilize their expertise to evaluate policy and regulatory matters and form policy recommendations. Throughout the legislative session, the issue committees regularly convene to review state legislation and local ordinances, dive into the intricacies of bills that may impact businesses and ultimately determine whether the Chamber should support, oppose, or take no position on specific policy proposals. The Issue Committees are the driving force behind the individual guiding principles, which are submitted to the Public Affairs Committee for review. The Public Affairs Committee discusses, debates, and fine-tunes the recommendations and submits them to the Chamber's Board of Directors for evaluation and final approval. The Board-approved recommendations become the Chamber's guiding principles, which drive our advocacy efforts each legislative session.

SUSAN ANABLE

Cox Communications

Through the Chamber's Issue Committees and member events, members are exposed to key local policymakers and policy issues impacting businesses. The Chamber also engages its members in the democratic process by hosting candidate forums and voter preparation materials.

It is important for businesses to remember that just because you don't take an interest in politics, doesn't mean it won't take an interest in you. There is no business that is exempt from some level of government regulation, policies, and taxes. The decisions made by our elected officials have a direct impact on businesses, so it's important to be involved in the process and make sure your voice is heard.

I encourage you to get involved in the Chamber's Public Affairs Committee or one of our six Issue Committees. This is an excellent way to learn more about the policymaking process and how you can have an impact on the issues that matter to your business. I hope you are able to lean in and participate in one of our issue committees or join us at one of our upcoming policy events. I look forward to working with you in the coming year!

Susan Anable, Phoenix Market Vice President, West Region, has been with Cox Communications since 2001. She is responsible for media relations, community relations, government affairs, and internal communications for Cox in Arizona and Nevada. From 1991 to 2001, Susan was part of the Arizona State Senate Research Staff, serving as Staff Director and Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Environment Analyst when she left to join Cox in 2001. Susan is currently serving her third term as Public Affairs Chair and Board member of the Greater Phoenix Chamber.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT & CEO

The Greater Phoenix Chamber is widely recognized as the preeminent business organization in the Greater Phoenix region, at the state capitol and city hall, with a wealth of experience in effectively advocating for businesses and shaping public policy. Since 1888, we have strived to represent the interests of the business community by supporting public policy measures that strengthen the Greater Phoenix region and create an environment for businesses to prosper. Over the past few years, businesses have been compelled to shift their focus from the conventional business model to tackling new obstacles and challenges.

The Chamber's skilled public policy team remains steadfast in its commitment to working with elected leaders to ensure that businesses can succeed while continuing our unwavering dedication to our members. As the new legislative session begins, we will continue to be a leading voice in calling for policies that promote the interests of our members and create a business-friendly environment that attracts and retains top talent, fosters innovation, and promotes economic growth and prosperity.

In 2023, 26 Chamber-supported bills were signed into law, and 34 Chamber-opposed bills were defeated. This year's legislative successes include big wins for dual enrollment. The Chamber was instrumental in the passage of additional funding for dual enrollment contained in the FY24 state budget with a $15.5 million investment to help expand dual enrollment throughout the state to low-income areas so students can obtain college credit for a certificate or degree before graduating high school.

Beyond our member-driven advocacy at the state and city levels of government, a significant component of our influence is a result of the Chamber's Political Action Committee (PAC),

TODD SANDERS
President & CEO,
Greater Phoenix Chamber

the only Chamber in Arizona with MEGA-PAC status, which encourages and facilitates our members' participation in governmental processes. The Chamber team and PAC Board of Directors thoroughly vet and endorse election candidates who meet the strict threshold that aligns with our guiding principles. The candidates we endorse demonstrate a strong focus on economic prosperity and opposing policies that will harm economic potential.

As we head into 2024, I encourage you to get involved by joining an Issue Committee, staying updated with the Chamber's Public Affairs Dashboard, and subscribing to our Policy in Focus Newsletter to work together to build a stronger Arizona. With over a century of experience in vetting legislation and four decades of candidate endorsements, the Chamber is undoubtedly the most qualified organization to represent your business needs. I look forward to the challenges and opportunities that await us in 2024.

- Support updated utility rates for solar rooftop customers that distribute system costs equitably by creating mechanisms that recover grid costs from distributed generation customers, enhance cost transparency, and minimize cost shifting between consumer classes to ensure all customers pay a fair and equitable share of costs to maintain the electric grid and to keep it operating reliably at all times.

BUDGET & TAX

PURPOSE

Works to promote tax and budget policies that support the retention and growth of existing businesses, attract new investment, with an emphasis on private investment, and encourage employment in the greater Phoenix region and Arizona. Serves as a partner with other Chamber issue committees in evaluating policies that have a tax and/or fiscal impact.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES 2024

- Support equitable tax and fiscal policies that will attract new investment and encourage job growth in Greater Phoenix and Arizona while allowing existing businesses to flourish.
- Support budget policies that balance the collection of revenues to maintain essential services and constitutionally mandated requirements while ensuring continued economic vitality of business and industry.
- Prioritize efforts to create jobs and facilitate growth when considering tax reform proposals.
- Oppose fund sweeps as a budget-balancing mechanism.
- Encourage state and local governments to exercise fiscal prudence, including maintaining appropriate, but not excessive, reserves to maximize bond ratings and to maximize resultant savings from improved borrowing costs.
- Encourage cities and counties to conduct frequent citizen reviews of their quality and delivery of current services and compare the results to other local governments in the state and, when possible, against available benchmarks.

FISCAL PRINCIPLES

The Greater Phoenix Chamber (GPC) urges lawmakers to adopt and follow a fiscal model that is fair, sound, balanced, and promotes job creation and economic vitality. Because the budget impacts all aspects of state government, GPC has developed this fiscal principles document to help guide its comprehensive policy recommendations.

Enhance Arizona's Economy

- Promote pro-business tax policies and tax reform proposals that maximize the creation and retention of jobs and return on investment and innovation that facilitates economic growth.
- Promote and support the expansion of Arizona's comprehensive statewide and regional transportation system to accommodate future population growth and the needs of the private sector to move people and goods in an efficient manner. Make immediate and strategic investments in transportation that can be supported by current federal, state, and local budgets.

Establish Best Practices

- Multi-year budget forecasting: Budgets should include a thoughtful assessment of the dynamic impacts of policy and fiscal proposals, augmenting the traditional static analysis on a multi-year basis (3 to 5 years).
- Transparency in Annual Budget Development: The development of the State's annual budget should proceed in an orderly, public process involving all members of standing Appropriations Committees in order to ensure full discussion and understanding of the budget proposals and their consequences for taxpayers, programs, and other stakeholders. The use of catch-all Budget Reconciliation Bills to insert non-budget related policy items should be eliminated or significantly curtailed. Lawmakers should scrutinize efforts that circumvent the appropriation process through earmarking or other means.
- Transparency for Major Policy Shifts: All decisions to increase or decrease taxes, borrow or shift costs should be done through the standing public committee process with a full understanding of the consequences to taxpayers, the state, and other stakeholders.
- Budget Crisis Response: State and local government leaders should timely and prudently respond to substantial changes in governmental revenues, including but not limited to taxes, tuition, fees for service, etc., that endanger funding for key government services that are essential to economic vitality.

- Federal Funds: Because federal dollars play a significant role in state financing, policymakers and stakeholders should recognize the interplay between federal and state funds and plan for the impact of inevitable changes to those funds. Officials should allocate federal funds in a transparent and consistent basis while ensuring expenditures are in line with the intended purpose.
- Public Pension & Retirement Systems: Lawmakers should further reform the public pension and retirement systems, legislatively and constitutionally, in ways that will ensure the systems are financially and actuarially sound and will not cause unexpected and excessive future costs to government, public employees and taxpayers.
- Debt: Lawmakers must exercise fiscal discipline to reduce the state's ongoing exposure to debt and adhere to existing constitutional requirements.
- Taxes:
 - o When considering changes to the tax code, all areas of the tax code should be evaluated for impact to the economy and the stability of future revenue.
 - o Support the continued implementation and uniformity of adopted tax reductions, reforms and simplifications and efforts at uniformity in TPT bases between the state and municipalities.
 - o Elected policymakers should look to create a more simplified tax system that promotes equity, ease of administration, and increased compliance, rather than being left to administrative discretion.
 - o Recognizing there is a need to strike a balance between spending and revenues, before considering a tax increase, every effort should be made to first identify and implement thoughtful, permanent reductions in government spending, leaving no options off the negotiating table.
 - o Focus special attention on selecting a tax increase that minimizes damage to the economy whenever prudence requires a tax increase to fund essential government services.

- o Support a statutory clarification regarding the taxation of digital goods and services; with the objective of providing taxpayer clarity and certainty regarding the taxation of the cloud-based services industry.
- Fee Reform: Elected policymakers should treat fee increases, hidden taxes, fund sweeps, rollovers, and cost shifting with the same careful consideration as tax increases, recognizing the impact each of these practices has on the economy.
- Infrastructure: Support expansion and improvements in essential public and private infrastructure projects that promote economic vitality.

Public Technology: Support improvements in state and local government information technology infrastructure to ensure efficient and effective government operations.

PRO BUSINESS PRO ARIZONA

SUPPORT THE CHAMBER'S
POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE

For nearly 40 years, the Chamber's PAC has identified and supported pro-business candidates for state and local offices, regardless of political affiliation.

Government leaders at the state, county, and local levels make decisions impacting businesses every day. From health care to business regulations, these decisions influence the economic vitality of the community. It is vital for area companies to support candidates that will understand the impacts of their decisions on Greater Phoenix businesses.
